But for many, driving a truck is not so much a matter of "wanting" but of "necessity". Although often the "will" has a role. When you have a boat or a camper or a toy transporter you must pull ÀÀor even a small trailer you must transport ÀÀown a truck with capacity towed by À is a must. Whether you're shopping for a heavy pickup truck, a versatile and popular half-ton truck, or a medium-sized pickup truck that you can drive daily and fit in your garage, here are 10 of the best towing trucks by class.Keep in mind, the maximum towing classification of the truck you buy depends on how heavy your truck weighs. Your maximum individual trailer classification À@gross vehicle weight classification of your truck (GCVWR or GCWR, maximum allowed weight of your truck and trailer combination) minus the weight of your actual truck and the weight of any passenger and cargo. If you buy a truck with a lot of weight-adding functions, or if you intend to carry a lot of passengers or load during towing (or both), that will reduce the quantity weight you can" pull.Also be aware of your GCVWR if you are planning to tow loads A A essalC id Àttilcbbp anu iah non ehc onem a olradiug etnemlagel ioup non ,erbbil 000.62 id À'Aip onasep oihcromir e noimac out li es ehc acifings À'ic ,elaicremmoc anzecl anu edehcir erbbil 000.62 a eroirepus RWVCG anu ,ititU itat5 ilgeN ,etnasep noimac ortsov li noc itnasep license.I all 11 photos 2020 RAM Heavy Duty, our 2020 Truck of the Year, is an easy choice for this list of the best tow trucks, and the RAM 3500 HD dive in particular excels with a fifth wheel or Gooseneck Hitch. If equipped with the 6.7-liter Inline-Six Cummins Diesel Diesel that produces 400 HP and 1,000 LB-FT torque, the 3500 RAM with double rear wheel can tow a trailer that weighs up to 35,100 pounds. The disadvantages are the Top-Dog Diesel is a $ 11,795 Option above the basic GAS V-8, and to manage that lofty 1,000 LB-FT, you are forced to obtain a high pair version of the old six-speed automatic transmission instead of the New to eight speed. But also with the $ 2,695 cheap 850-LB-FT Cummins or 6.4-ILTER Hemi V-8, the RAM 3500 is an excellent choice for towing with a fifth wheel or gooseneck thanks to the features available as a high resolution camera in-BED and the trick of the suspension all trailer height capacity. See all 11 photothe ram hd can be the best truck all around, but when it comes to the best truck for the fifth wheel drive or gooseneck the Chevrolet Silverado 0350 HD d'AMPLEMO (E Its almost identical counterpart from GMC) has one leg up. If equipped with the V-8 Duramax diesel 445 HP and 910 LB-FT 6.6 liters, the 3500HD can tow up to 35,500 pounds. The GMC also has the advantage of more gears to choose from with its 10 -speed Allison automatic transmission. This helped the Sierra 3500HD to tow the RAM during the tanks of the truck of the year, and also made it the most pleasant truck to be towed. Given the facilitate with which the GMC managed a Gooseneck trailer uploaded up to 10 tons, the Sierra 3500HD is one of the best trucks to tow mega loads. Take all 11 photos of the trucks is engaged in a couple war a All pitch, and the prize is "Best-in-Class" marking rights. Currently, the leader in the race Driving arms is Ford, with its updated F-450 Super Duty that produces 475 hp and a staggering 1,050 pounds of torque from a 6.7-liter V-8 diesel Power Stroke. For those who count, count, 50 lb-ft more than Ram's Cummins and 140 lb-ft more than GM's Duramax. What's with this twist? A declared maximum towing capacity of 37,000 pounds.See all 11 photosSometimes you don't need a giant truck, just a pretty big one. Still imposing and capable, a three-quarter ton truck like the Chevy Silverado 2500HD will do the job for most. Like the larger Silverado and GMC Sierra 3500, the 2500HD can be used with a 401 hp V-8 gasoline, 464 lb-ft 6.6 litre or a 445 hp and 910 lb-ft 6.6 litre Duramax diesel V-8 diesel.Although we do not recommend the first or its six-speed automatic, when equipped with the second, you get the 10-speed automatic transmission and a towing capacity of up to 18.5 0 pounds on a conventional attachment. In addition, the Silverado HD features a transparent trailer display system, which uses two cameras (one on the tailgate and one to be installed on the trailer) to allow you to see virtually everything you are towing. This feature makes the Silverado HD one of the best trucks for towing a travel trailer or other great object by preventing the view hanging on your ball hook.See all 11 photosThe F-450 may be the king of numbers, but the F-250 is the mainstay of the Super Duty range. The F-250 comes in different bed and cabin configurations, and you can have with your choice of 6.2-litre V-8, the new 7.3-litre V-8 with 430 hp and 475 pounds of torque, or the same 1,050-pound Power Stroke diesel found in the 350 and 450À À an expensive option at $10,495. Equipped, the F-250 has a maximum conventional towing capacity of 20,000 pounds. For the most part, it should be a lot to tow your camper, boat, or toy carrier.See all 11 photosOur 2019 truck of the year, the Ram 1500, is still the full-size pickup to beat year later. Its superior driving quality, unparalleled quietness and the long list of available niches make it the most luxurious half-ton truck on the market, which means you should make long trips with your camper more The RAM 1500 can be had with the Pentastar V-6 3.6 litre (305 hp and 269 lb-ft of torque), two different 5.7 litre EMI V-8s (both producing 395 hp and 410 lb-ft), or an upgraded version of the EcoDiesel V-6 engine with 3.0 litre RAM (260 hp and 480 lb-ft). In addition, RAM's eTorque lightweight hybrid system, standard on the V-6 base and available on the V-8, recovers and recycles energy from wheels that would otherwise be lost. That energy is stored in a battery and is used to help the engine with heavy loads and power the engine's automatic stop/start system to save fuel. See all 11 photos of a solid choice in the life-size truck class is the venerable Ford F-150. There's a reason it's America's best-selling pickup and it's its track record for reliability and versatility. The F-150 engine range includes a 3.3-liter powered base (290 hp and 265 lb-ft of torque); two EcoBoost V-6S turbo, a 2.7-liter (325 hp and 400 lb-ft) and a 3.5-liter (375 hp and 470 lb-ft); a 5.0-liter V-8 (395 hp and 400 lb-ft), and a 3.0-litre V-6 diesel (250 hp and 440 lb-ft). In addition, there is a high-performance version of the 3.5-litre (450 hp and 510 lb-ft) ecoboost in the raptor F-150. For the trailer, we like the EcoBoost V-6S and the naturally aspirated V-8 better than the new Power Stroke diesel option. The diesel feels stressed when it is towed on the highway and does not have the grunt it needs to pass or keep up the uphill speed. Ford Pro Trailer's Trailer Backup feature helps you reverse more easily when you trailer, simplifying backup maneuvers with an intuitive knob that removes all guesswork from the steering for you. That feature available along the Ford F-150 is one of the best half ton trucks for trailer. View all 11 Photoschevy's Silverado 1500 (and its corporate cousin, the GMC Sierra 1500) hasn't made much progress erotoM erotoM ,ofacrem lus oihcromir li rep itatov À'ip atlannenot ozzem id noimac i art rocna " À am ,droF e MAR e MAR id interrocious i Includes a V-6 base of 4.3 liters (285 HP and 305 LB-FT torque), a 5.3-liter V-8 (355 HP and 383 LB-FT), a 2.7 turbocharged four-cylinder Litri (310 HP and 348 LB-FT), a 6.2-liter V-8 (420 HP and 460 LB-FT) and a 3.0-liter Duramax inline-Six diesel (27 7 hp and 460 LB-FT ). All gas engines have the switching technology of the Active Fuel Management cylinder of the GM, and most can be had with a stop/start system. For towing, it is difficult to beat the Diesel Duramax option, which we called "Buttery-Liscia" and effortlessly when we pulled a trailer with one in our first test. But we were surprised at how good the new turbo-four option is during the Truck test of the year. The engine pulls strong to low turns and quickly accelerates even when a trailer is towed. Take all 11 photocons a medium -sized truck, you will not be able to tow everything. But you should still have enough traction force to tow a decent sizes. The Ford Ranger, even if defective, is one of these medium dimensions that is up to the task. The Ranger is based on an old platform that received some touches when it was brought to the United States for 2019. Despite these improvements, the racing and handling of the ranger are still behind the competition. Where it shines, however, it is in its driving group. Ora variant Ford Ranger gets a 2.3 -liter eco -boulaf eco -cobocompressed four cylinders coupled with an automatic 10 speed gearbox with a towing modality/cala, and each has the same driving assessment maximum as 7,500 pounds. In the tests, a Ford Ranger XL STX did 0-60 per hour in 12.5 seconds hooked to a 4,000 pound trailer. Perhaps you are looking at the maximum weight classification of the ranger and you are wondering why the new Jeep Gladiator, with its highest higher 7,650 pounds, did not make this list best trucks for towing. The truth is that we weren't impressed by his towing performance during the truck test of the year.See all 11 photosThe Chevy Colorado won back-to-back Truck of the Year Awards in 2015 and 2016, and continues to be our favorite pickup in the mid-size truck category. With its wide range of powertrains, powertrains, Colorado can be equipped to meet the needs of most consumers. A pair of torque in line in line from 2.5 liters in line for 200 HP and 191 pounds acts as a basic engine. From Là-, buyers can switch to a 3.6-liter V-6 (308 HP and 275 LB-FT) or a 2.8-liter I-4 turbodiesel (186 hp and 369 LB-FT). Diesel will be the best truck to tow in training, but the V-6 is not bad either. In a medium-sized truck comparison test, a Colorado V-6 cheered a trailer uploaded with 14 hay bales on a narrow and winding road facilitate, demonstrating a logic on duty impressive from its eight speed standards and a race refined and refined along the road .2020 heavy ram 3500 | Up to 35,100 pounds2020 GMC Sierra/Chevrolet Silverado 3500HD | Up to 35,500 pounds2020 Ford F-450 Super Duty | Up to 37,000 pounds2020 Chevrolet Silverado/GMC Sierra 2500HD | Up to 18.5002020 Ford F-250 Super Duty | Up to 20,000 pounds2020 RAM 1500 | Up to 12,750 pounds2020 Ford F-150 | Up to 13,200 pounds2020 Chevrolet Silverado/GMC Sierra 1500 | Up to 12,100 pounds2020 Ford Ranger | 7,500 pounds2020 Chevrolet Colorado | Up to 7,700 pounds on FacebookShare on Twitter Twitter
